

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A selector selects one standard voltage from among divided voltages from a voltage dividing circuit and a reference voltage from a reference voltage generating circuit, in accordance with a test mode enable signal and 5 a reference voltage select signal. An internal voltage generating circuit receives the standard voltage from the selector and generates an internal power supply voltage.